BEST PRACTICES MAKE LEARNING VISIBLE

- •Learning means a behavior has changed
- If you can't see a skill, you don't know if a student has that
- If you can't see the skill, you can't correct or praise.

ROUTINES AND GROUPING
You may have to change your class routines, and groupings to embed higher dosages of best practices.
Whole group Small group
Pairs Teacher lead Student lead
Self-check Peer check
After we go through the definitions and examples of best practices I'll ask you to think about how you might be able to reorganize.
REFLECTION

- Is an instructional question, statement or gesture made by the teacher seeking an academic response from students (Sprick, Knight, Reinke, & McKale, 2006).
- A teacher behavior that prompts or solicits a student response, which is verbal, written or a gesture (e.g., asking a question, presenting a demand) (Simonsen, Myers & DeLuca, 2010).

RESPONSE CARDS

· Students indicate readiness or confidence with a topic

Start is with red, green, and yellow cards which have near

- universal meaning Define signals and purposes:
- · "Stop, I'm lost!"
- "Slow down, I'm getting confused"
- "Full steam ahead!"
- Variations:
- · Thumbs up, thumbs down, thumbs sideways
- Cards with ABCD on the four sides, students "flip" to correct response.

THINK-PAIR-SHARE

- 1. Think silent and independent
- 2. Pair share your ideas with a partner
- 3. Listen to your partner's ideas
- 4. Share your partner's ideas with the larger group

ERROR CORRECTION: DEFINED

- An informative statement provided by a teacher or other adult immediately following the occurrence of an undesired behavior.
- It is BRIEF
- It is specific- tells the learner exactly what they are doing incorrectly
- It includes telling students what they should do differently in the future;
- It is immediately followed by the opportunity and invitation to perform the behavior correctly
- Then you walk away....

RATIONALE: WHY	BRIEF,	SCRIP	TED,	AND
INSTRUCTIONAL?	?

- Systematic correction of student academic and social behavioral errors and
- Foreign Control of State and Action and Social Delavioral errors performance feedback have a positive effect on behavior.
   (IJ/SE Shared Agenda, Tools for Promoting Educational Success and Reducing Delinquency, NASDSE & Delinquency, N
- Consistent corrections are superior to those delivered inconsistently (Acker & O'Leary, 1988).
- Inconsistent enforcement of expectations create student uncertainty about what those expectations are and how/ if the expectations apply to them
   (Evertson, Emmer, & Eamp; Worsham, 2003).
- Exclusion and punishment are ineffective at producing long-term reduction in problem behavior
   (Costenbader & Markson, 1998).

RATIONALE: WHY BRIEF, SCRIPTED, AND INSTRUCTIONAL??

- The way you speak with a child can affect how the child responds.
- He way you speed with a united can anect now the United Esponds.

  He sasier to avoid power struggles and get compliance from a child if you:

  Give directions in a clear, direct, and specific fashion,

  Using as few words as possible, and

  Provide a reasonable amount of time to comply (e.g., wait time).

  (Newcomer, 2008).

- Error corrections that were brief (i.e., 1 to 2 words) were more effective than longer error corrections (i.e., 2 or more phrases)
   (Abramowitz, O'Leary, & Futtersak, 1988),
- You may encourage power struggles and disrespectful behavior when the feedback is vague, sarcastic, or overly wordy.

  (Newcomer, 2008).

ERROR CORRECTION

- 1. Respectfully address student
- 2. Describe inappropriate behavior (or the wrong response)
- 3. Describe expected behavior/rule (the correct response and how you figured that out)
- 4. Link to expectation on matrix (link to resources, previous lesson)
- 5. Provide chance, in that moment for student to show appropriate behavior
- 6. Praise appropriate behavior
- 7. Embed additional OTRs for demonstration of that behavior.

WALKING FEET: EXAMPLE

- Oh no! That isn't a safe way to go down the hall. You were running and I'm worried you'll run into someone and get hurt.
- Remember, to stay safe we walk down the hallway.
- Can you please show me walking feet the rest of the hallway?
- Excellent! Thanks for being safe about it. I'll be looking for walking feet when you come back down this hallway!

- 2. Write the best answer
- 3. Share with another group/vote on the best answer across groups/ share with entire class
- 4. Another variation: Each group could get 1 question/item and "jig-saw" to teach each other the information.

TECHNOLOGY-BASED OTRS

- ☐ Technology can be engaging, and also very easy to get off track. If mastery is the goal, you still have to provide oversight and SEE their responses.
- $\hfill\Box$  The apps/ technology must have branching logic OR allow for you to stop and correct

SPECIFIC AND CONTINGENT PRAISE

Teacher praise has been supported as among one of the most empirically sound teacher competencies.

SPECIFIC, CONTINGENT PRAISE: DEFINED

A behavior-specific praise statement is verbal/written feedback that is descriptive, specific, and delivered contingent upon student demonstration of expected behavior, in a ratio of 4:1.

"Tammy thanks for throwing your trash away. That shows cooperation and respect for your school."
"Thank you for being on time this morning, that's very responsible."
"Your eyes are on me and your mouth is quiet.

TERMS DEFINED

- Descriptive and specific: Identifies and defines both the student and behavior being recognized
- Behavior-contingent: student accurately displays desired behavior
- Frequency: Behavior-specific praise statements delivered 4 times as often as error correction. Use more often when introducing or teaching a new behavior

RATIONALE for PRAISE:

- $\hfill\Box$  It is the cheapest, most powerful behavior change tool teachers have in their repertoire.
- □It can be replicated in every setting (and in REAL LIFE).
- $\Box \mbox{Helps}$  adults and students focus on positive social behaviors and actions.
- □Increases the likelihood students will use the recognized behaviors and skills in the future.
- $\Box \mbox{Decreases}$  inappropriate behavior and therefore, reduces the need for correction.
- □Enhances self-esteem and helps build internal focus of control.

RATIONALE for PRAISE:

- Contingent praise is associated with increases in a variety of behavioral and academic skills
   (Partin, Robertson, Maggin, Oliver, & Wehby, 2010)
- ■Behavior specific praise has an impact in both special and general education settings

  . (Ferguson & Houghton, 1992; Sutherland, Wehby & Copeland, 2000)
